

Cookies Policy

Like a lot of websites we, Dr Klemperer, 27 Old Gloucester Street, London. WC1N 3AX, use cookies on our website www.drklemperer.co.uk. This policy explains what cookies are, which ones we use on our website and what the cookies do.

If you continue to use our website you are consenting to the use of cookies on your computer.

What are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your computer by websites that you visit. They are widely used by the majority of websites in order to make websites work, or work more efficiently, as well as to provide information to the owners of the site. Typically, cookies enable website owners to track the number of visitors to its website, remember details such as log-in information, preferences and what is placed in a shopping trolley.

Which Cookies do we use?

We use cookies to enable us to track the number of visitors to our site and to remember login information and items which are placed in a shopping basket. We may use both “session” cookies and “persistent” cookies on the website. We may use the session cookies to: keep track of you whilst you navigate the website and they are deleted from your computer when you close your browser. We may use the persistent cookies to: enable our website to recognise you when you visit and these will remain stored on your computer until deleted or until they reach the expiry date.

Our payment services providers may also send you cookies.

The following cookies are used on our site:

Google Analytics - __qca, __qcb, __utma, __utmb, __utmc, __utmz . These cookies collect information in an anonymous form, including the number of visitors to the site, where visitors have come to the site from and the pages they have visited, the devices and browsers the visitor is using. We use the information to compile reports and to help us improve the site. To opt out of being tracked by Google Analytics across all websites visit <http://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>.

Site Specific Cookies – We do not currently but may in the future use persistent and session cookies on our website. These will enable us to provide a better service to you. These cookies will enable us to record the following information:

- Whether you are logged in or out
- The status of your registration
- Login details
- Which items you have placed in the shopping basket

Social Media Cookies – We do not currently but may in the future use various social media sites including www.facebook.com and www.twitter.com . Social media cookies permit members of various Social Media websites the ability to like, share and bookmark various pages within our website.

How can I block Cookies?

Most browsers allow you to reject all cookies, whilst some browsers allow you to reject just third party cookies. For example, in Internet Explorer you can refuse all cookies by clicking "Tools", "Internet Options", "Privacy", and selecting "Block all cookies" using the sliding selector. Blocking all cookies will, however, have a negative impact upon the usability of many websites, including this one. You can find out how to block cookies for your particular browser by clicking "help" on your browser's menu or by visiting <http://www.allaboutcookies.org/manage-cookies/index.html> .

Most web browsers allow some control of cookies through the browser settings. To find out more about cookies, including how to see what cookies have been set and how to manage and delete them, visit www.allaboutcookies.org.

How will we use the information we collect from you?

We may use the information we collect from you using cookies to provide our services to you. Data that we collect in an anonymous form will be used by us to analyse the number of visitors to our site, what pages are most attractive to our visitors, and what kinds of offers our customers like to see.

Access to your information

You have a right to request a copy of the information we hold on you at any time. Please contact us if you would like to receive a copy of this information please email inquiries@drklemperer.co.uk. There will be a small charge for processing this request.
